

Club WoF Overview

Sport NZ's Club Warrant of Fitness (Club WOF) is an easy to use web based tool that will help your sport or recreation club assess its strengths and weaknesses and gives you feedback on how you can improve the way your club runs.

The Club WoF asks a number of questions within six broad areas of club capability;

- Leadership
- Planning
- Customer focus
- Sport delivery
- People management
- Sport management

Each question asks if you agree that your club is doing a good job and how much of a priority you think it is for your club to work on this area right now.

At the end of the assessment you'll find out what questions your club scored lowest on. The Club WoF also asks you to select what you think are the five improvement areas for your club right now and would like to receive further feedback on. Once you submit your club assessment, you will be immediately emailed a Club WoF report.

Club WoF Report

The purpose of the report is to provide your club with discussion points so that you can improve its capability in the five areas you have chosen to receive further feedback on. The report includes your Club WoF results, information on good practice, as well as links to further resources.

Club WoF Scores

The Club WoF gives a weighted score out of 10 on each question. Weighted scores are calculated as follows;

- Your agreement/disagreement rating is worth 40% of your weighted score
- Your priority rating is worth 60% of your weighted score.
